The road, it calls to me
I journey through the night
And in my head
the blessed darkness is my lonely call The rain, it falls on me
It dances on the clouds
And in my head
I watch another sleeping city pass

Riders in the night
there is no rest, no journey's end in sight

The road goes round the world
There is no pain
There is no grief
There is no hope It's in my head the blessed darkness in the dreams come

Riders in the night
there is no rest, no journey's end in sight

Riders in the night
there is no rest, no journey's end in sight
