

Frida

"I'll Be Thinking Of You"

Visit "I'll Be Thinking Of You" on MotoLyrics.com

I never figured what it would be like
To be without your smile
And be without your looks that make me laugh
Until I cry
And so there you go, you're leaving me
For oh so long
But now I have learned my lesson,
I know the meaning of withdraw
But as your shirt falls to the floor
And you lie down for one night more
And the lights go out again
Are you thinking of me then?
You are the guilty, you rock my world
You twist my mind
You make me incapable of judging you
You make me blind
But you should know that every time
The day is done and I close my eyes
And the dark crawls in again
I'll be thinking of you then
I don't know who turns the time
Who spins the earth, who draws the lines
But there is no power alive as strong as when
Two souls make one
I am lost, I am lost, I am lost
But as your shirt falls to the floor
And you lie down for one night more
And the lights go out again
Are you thinking of me then?

Visit Frida page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.