I'm standing opened up but you close your eyes
Pretending that happiness is a thing you can't deny
Normal lights are shining, you turn away
It seems I gotten used the hardest thing to say

Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do
Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do

Feed yourself again with smoke and video tapes
With that they give you something new that you can taste
Like it's simple but they suit your every need
If they have you change you can admit the feel

Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do
Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do

Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do
Running away, keep on running away
Feel this moment like I do

Keep on running away, running away
Feel this moment like I do
Running away, keep on running away
Feel this moment like I do
