I've seen some more than I can handle Ms.
Why refuse to cut them loose right off your fingertips?
If you let them sink, you think everyone would let you go?
Well have another guess, it's best you leave before the show.

Just give up trying. You've got to go.

I've seen some more than I can handle Ms.
The air gets colder by the second, and still your lips
wont quit.
But some advice, would be to give up while you can.
We'll take our pride, and walk away,
Our pride and walk away and make a stand.

Just give up trying. You've got to go.

These Sticks & Stones are breaking my bones,
But my actions speak louder than you.
Let's settle this score and find the moral tonight.
You know our love was too good to be true.
