Someone please call the ambulance quick.
This fevers spread and we've all become sick.
Put on your all black dress and let's go change the news.
This simply is not a test, so grab your dancing shoes.
And we'll move to the beat of the sirens tonight.
And we'll dance until everything will be alright.

With you I'm running out of time.
To say hello so I'll just say goodbye.
And I'll sail across the whole Atlantic
Before you would panic.
This moment's tangent for me.

Listen up this is not a fake drill.
Tell everyone you know to stand still.
Until we found the cure, and it's secure with me.
I think they found it now, it reads "I'm Heavily!"
And we'll move to the beat of the sirens tonight.
And we'll dance until everything will be alright.

With you I'm running out of time.
To say hello so I'll just say goodbye.
And I'll sail across the whole Atlantic
Before you would panic.
This moment's been tangent for me.
