

From Ashes Rise "Concrete And Steel"

Gaze upon the landscape for miles in a distance of concrete and steel.
Look upon the landscape of broken glass and nails.
Nauseating carnage -- obscenity calculated to the highest degree. It's time to dethrone the masters of the scheme; the ones in the labcoats, the shadowed technicians, the gilded proprietors of the last seas of green. Drain the excess from the bloated machines -- drain the excess and throw the remnants in the whipcracker's eyes. Drain the excess and burn like fire in the sky.
