[Performed as First Too Last]

Re-trace the steps I took and all things I had,
If I could change it all, then it wouldn't be so bad.
What did I ever do to make it be this way?
If I had the choice then would I even stay?

It's just day by day. (It's just day by day)
There's nothing left that I can give to you,
And what can I say? (And what can I say?)
I regret all those promises I made.

Now that I'm turning to you, all that I can ask,
Is that you let me live your life just how it stands.
Sometimes I feel like I relate to no one else,
So here I am, still searching to find my self (And)

It's just day by day. (It's just day by day)
There's nothing left that I can give to you,
And what can I say? (And what can I say?)
I regret all those promises I made.

It's just day by day. (It's just day by day)
There's nothing left that I can give to you,
And what can I say? (And what can I say?)
I regret all those promises I made.

No!
