Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it could be forever.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
Tell me what you're looking for.

To fall asleep with you would be heaven;
for once this dream won't be short lived.
Take me with you show me all life's splendors.

I've been waiting for life's last breath.
I've been waiting for life's last breath.

The world wouldn't turn without you;
breathing its air, I'd take you anywhere.
For once this is one of those dreams
that I can spare, but you'd rather spare me.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it could be forever.
I'll trust you if you'll just trust me.
Tell me what you're looking for.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it will be forever.
I'll trust you if you'll just trust me.
If this isn't what you wanted, then tell me what is.
Tell me

And our roles have been filled, as they should
with hidden messages in secret songs.
This is my last breath of air, your last chance to love.

[Another version of this song, supposed to be a demo one:]

Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it will last forever.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
Tell me what you're looking for.

To fall asleep with you would be heaven;
for once this dream won't be short lived.
Take me with you show me all life's splendors.

I've been waiting for life's last breath.

I've been waiting for life's last breath.

The world wouldn't turn without you;
breathing its air, I'd take you anywhere.
For once this is one of those dreams
that I can spare, but you'd rather spare me.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it will be forever.
I'll trust you if you'll just trust me.
Tell me what you're looking for.
Now I see the truth in your eyes.
This time it will be forever.
I'll trust you if you'll just trust me.
If this isn't what you wanted, then tell me what is.

But our roles have been filled, as they should
with hidden messages in secret songs.
This is my last breath of air.

I'll never miss it, the way you regret
Everything means everyone
The second I thought
That I had it all
You were the first one
To tell me I'm wrong

I'll never accept, the way you regret
Everything means everyone
The second I thought
That I had it all
You were the first one
To tell me I'm wrong

But you were my light in darkness and darkness is everything, that's all I need(?)
So live all your days,
as if we have never met
They'll be better than ones we've spent
