Two as one, a slight addiction
Are we stuck in the routine of this
There's still more nights, they come and go
And the world keeps spinning All I know, I know
It's just you and me
Two as one

Through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,
This chapter could've played out differently
Oh through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,
This chapter would've played out differently

This chapter would've played out differently,

Dig behind, the bones to get down to the core
And how do I get into such a tight locked door?
How many times can I take that look
The passed out girl that shone the worst, the worst
Of you and me
Two as one

Through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,
This chapter could've played out differently
Oh through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,
This chapter would've played out differently

This chapter would've played out differently

Two as one
A slight addiction
Two as one
A slight addiction

Oh through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,
This chapter could've played out differently
Oh through all the nights we missed
Walking by the woods, it's such a pessamint,

This chapter would've played out differently
