Losing sleep almost every night
Caving in and falling out of sight
You came in playing safe someday
Left me in a darker state

It's the way you throw around your weight
It's the way your eyes roll away from me
Your actions line up inconstantly
And I need to wake up, because I'm sleeping

Now you listen up, my dear
Shut your mouth and open up your ears
I never meant to take this personally
But you are the problem
And I'm the key
I never meant to take this personally
But you are the problem
And I'm the key

I'll release and you let go
This repeats and so it goes
I'll release and you let go
You release and I'll let go
This is where our weakness shows

I'll release and you let go
This repeats and so it goes
I'll release, you let go
This is where our weakness shows
I'll release and you let go
This the truth we'll never know

It's the way you throw around your weight
It's the way your eyes roll away from me
Your actions line up inconstantly
And I need to wake up, because I'm sleeping

WAKE UP! WAKE UP! YOUR STILL ASLEEP!
