Slave you get what you bring
Tired or you get what we give
I feel like I'm stuck in between
Again, again, again and again

Loath, I've been subjected to what you've said
You're pissing harder than what you know is right
A joke where you stand, no thought overflow
Look down on the upside

Take, you've taken more than enough away
You say tomorrow is just another world
That'll choke in you throat so you dope up the flow
And look down on the upside

Slave you get what you bring
Tired or you get what we give
I feel like I'm stuck in between
Again, again, again and again

Break, a broken spirit is what you gave
You hold the pieces of what you know are mine
Crawl back in your hole and choke on the bone
Of what's left on the outside

Never again, never again, never again
Just leave what is mine, throw you away
Test me over time
Just leave what is mine, throw you away
Test me over time

Too bad things aren't what they seem my friend
To be my friend, too bad this is all I try Too bad things aren't what they seem again, seem again
I've washed right out of my dear old past, that was the filth on me

Loath, I've been subjected to what you've said
You're pissing harder than what you know is right
A joke where you stand, no thought overflow

Take, you've taken more than enough away
You say tomorrow is just another world
That'll choke in you throat so you dope up the flow
And look down on the upside

Slave you get what you bring
Tired or you get what we give
I feel like I'm stuck in between
Again, again, again and again
