[Incomprehensible]

Keeping the brain going with micro shocks

Melted faces

Fractured cells

Implanted memories

Syringe of hell

Crippled mutants

Strapped with chains

Tortured users

Laughing in pain

Empty vastness

You can't hear a sound

In space they float

Users unbound

The pulse it races

Chest is tight

A higher feeling

Censored with fright

The track marks on your spine, they say

Machines are humans

We're programmed that way

In God we trust, in God we trust

The track marks on your spine, they say

Machines are humans

We're programmed that way

In God we trust, in God we trust

Disease

I believe in pain

Cruelty and infidelity

Synthetic stimulant

Artificial plague

Demented erosion

Existence for a new way

The track marks on your spine, they say
Machines are humans
We're programmed that way
In God we trust, in God we trust

The track marks on your spine, they say
Machines are humans
We're programmed that way
In God we trust, in God we trust

Everyone [Incomprehensible] and corruption

In God we trust
In God we trust
