I can feel the lies burning my skin
Let me show my deepest thoughts locked in
When you fail me you will know I'm there
Cause dreams and lullabies turn to nightmares

You know I care
I would not dare
I'll take my share
And fly away from you

Now these broken walls become my home
They leaded me through broken glass and stone
My hands were cut I'd sooner lose my life
But as the books unfold oh you know I will survive

I'm still alive
I cannot die
This empty tomb
I will you oh you know I will not hide

And I will rise above
And I will rise above
And I will rise above
And I will rise above

Now its time for me to say goodbye
"Oh good bye" yeah
It's time for me to wave to my mother's hand and sigh

I'm still alive
I cannot die
This empty tomb
I will not hide
From you to me don't die
Won't you please just let me be

I will rise above
I will rise above
I will rise above
