"Eye Of The Demon"

Sounds from the darkness are calling the walls that surround you draw near the whole world beneath you is falling stricken by the torture of fear

Stare into the eye of the demon it stares back into your soul fuck everything you believe in follow them through the gates of hell

This madness seems so unreal are you going insane no one knows how this feels they don't understand your pain the good that's inside you is forgotten possession grows ever so stronger everything fades and turns rotten your mind and your body is yours no longer
