out here
i can barely see my breath surrounded
by jealousy and death
i can't be reached
i've only had one call
dragged underneath
seperate from you all

this time
i've lost my own return in spite of
everything i've learned i hid my tracks
spit out all my air
slipped into cracks

stripped of all my cares

i'm so tired
sheep are counting me
no more struggle
no more energy
no more patient
you can write that down
it's all too crazy
i'm not sticking 'round
