When the sun is sinking low
And you try to let go
Of all the dirty things you did today
The days and nights go by
And dark circles take your eyes
You're searching for the child you were yesterday

I've gotta let it go
I'm running hard against the vein
I've gotta take it slow
Nothing feels the same

See the faces in the flood
See the writing in the mud
There's one that always wants to break and fall
See the savior in the phrase 'cause it makes it go away
You're searching for the light you saw yesterday

I've gotta let it go
I'm running hard against the vein
I've gotta take it slow
Nothing feels the same

Call it wrong
I never cared that much for life
Call it wrong
I never saved that much of my mind

You'll never know
You'll never know
You'll never know
I've gotta let it go
I'm running hard against the vein
I've gotta take it slow
Nothing feels the same
I've gotta let it go
I'm running hard against the vein
I've gotta take it slow
Nothing feels the same
