And all the clouds seem to roll away
At the sound of your voice,
So I call thee to my place;
I need you now.
And as the rain falls down
I realize it's getting worse for me,
So I pray thee
Please come soon
Before I start falling to pieces.

(Chorus)
So I fall apart again
And let you gather the pieces,
Then I break in half
And I let you fill the void.
All this time and all we've shared falling into together.
Can you save me from,
save me from myself?

And all the darkness seems to flow away
At the trace of your touch.
That's why I need you so desperately,
I need you now.
I can't, I can't, let myself go on
To live this way.
So I pray thee, please come soon
Before I start falling to pieces.

(Chorus)

Falling to pieces.

(Chorus 2x)
