She walks the night with silent grace and scorn
I haunt her side to watch the world and learn
And I let all my fears subside
When she sends my soul to the setting sun
Yeah all my fears subside, then she's gone.
I drink the drops that fall from time to time
And when my legs are tired she gives me wings to fly.

And I let all my fears subside,
When she sends my soul to the setting sun
Yeah all my fears subside,
And she's gone.
And this is how I feel, this is how I seem, this is who I am,
when I let my fears subside.
La la la la la la la la.
