Fundisha:

Compare me not for who I am

Is what I feel and

What I feel is who I am

For each note, each word is my own expression

Is what I am feeling which is inspired by God

No-one can possibly feel what I feel for

There is only one me

And mean in such a way that I'm stand alone

I live for creativity and song

That's why I was created to express myself

To you to her to him and let you know how real it is

It's so real that my music must make a difference

Change hearts, ___ wounds bring forth light

Awake the dead, despite the bad relationships

Misunderstood woman, man or child

It all comes down to this

The god that lives in me lives in you

And I must let my light shine so yours can also

It's time it's way overdue

Hear me, feel me

Hear him, feel him

Open up your years and listen (open up your ears and listen)

Open up your heart feel

Don't turn away, don't run you

Can't a for he's too real , he's too real

Beat plays.....
