Give me something to believe in
Something that is real
A moment of reflection
What should I believe?

I've lost my innocence
If you see it around please tell it to call
I can't stomach my own stomach

It can't tell me truths I need
When what I feel and what I see isn't even real
What should I believe?

Give me something to believe in
Something that is real
A moment of reflection
What should I believe?

Television tells me one thing
Brain tells me something else
Bullshit never had any intelligence

War's a terror that we can do without
Small town thinkers will always wear you down
Just don't look for the hidden meanings

Give me something to believe in
Something that is real
A moment of reflection
What should I believe?

Start with a voice, with some heart
Something to believe
End with a song in the light
Something to believe

Start with a voice, with some heart
Something to believe
End with a song in the light

Give me something to believe in
Give me something that is real

Give me something to believe in
Give me something that is real
