I feel the walls too close to me and everything here's black I can already reach the ceiling although I lie on my back there's no way to get outside there's hardly space to move I don't know how I came in I don't have any prove chorus:

so what has happened to me I'm much to blind to see oh please give me a clue what I have to do is it already too late no chance to open the gate is this really the end time to reach a new land?

I don't know what has happened and why I am in here don't even know who I am everything is much too near maybe I am buried alive or my body - my body is dead never had such a feeling there are strange sounds in my head
