Hang on to her, boy
With all your might
She's got so much to give
If you treat her right

She's a classic
Perfect in every way
One of a kind
Now that's what my daddy would say

And when I turned 18
He smiled at me
Walked outside and tossed me the keys
And he said

"Hang on to her, boy
With all your might
She's got so much to give
If you treat her right

"In a world where things are changing fast
Ain't too many things that are made to last
Hang on to her, boy
They don't make them like that anymore"

She's a beauty
The kind you don't see every day
Yeah, she's timeless
Well, that's what her daddy would say

And arm and arm
As they walked down the isle
He gave me her hand
And said with a smile

"Hang on to her, boy
With all your might
She's got so much to give
If you treat her right"

"In a world where things are changing fast
Ain't too many things that were made to last

Hang on to her, boy
They don't make them like that anymore"

And as the years go by
We'll still be side by side
'Cause there's a voice inside
Reminding me to hang on

Hang on to her boy
With all your might
She's got so much to give
If you treat her right
In a world where things are changing fast
Ain't too many things that were made to last

Hang on to her boy
Take care of her son
Hang on to her, boy
They don't make them like that anymore, more
They don't make them like that anymore
Hang on to her, boy
