Searching through this life, searching for my soul
I found it right between poetry and rock & roll
Going from place to place, expanding my mind
Doing all I can, trying to fulfill my life

I shall prevail, no matter what you do
I shall prevail, in spite of you

Breathing is my right and so are these worlds
No matter what you think, no matter how absurd
I will not be silent, regardless of your rules
My mind and my voice are my weapons and my tools

I shall prevail, no matter what you do
I shall prevail, in spite of you

Serve you I shall not, to help you is a must
For knowledge I do hunt and an insight I do lust
Follow not my way, to lead I was born
Don't try to change me or I'll leave you bruised and torn

I shall prevail, no matter what you do
I shall prevail, in spite of you
