Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the facts no matter where you run Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the fact you are your fathers son Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the facts no matter where you run Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the fact you are your fathers son

Throw yourself into the wind and see now where you land

Might be up in the hills, or down by the sand What is so dark and different will always make you shake

But if it's a life you want, then it's chances you must take

Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the facts no matter where you run Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the fact you are your fathers son

Let's rise up so far above, it will all become so clear Never lose ourselves again, or that which we hold dear We will grow up from our roots, we will rise up to the sun

We can grow so far above, we never lose this love

Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the facts no matter where you run Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the fact you are your fathers son Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the facts no matter where you run Lyin to yourself is lyin to everyone You can't change the fact you are your fathers son

Let's find out, if you are still able to feel Let's look down, deep inside, and see if you are real Let now go ahead and join, gather ourselves as one Let's now take back what is ours from all these greedy punks MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.
