"why"

You can always find me here
I'm never going anywhere
So come on in and try to change this girl
Sick and tired of being hated
Want to be appreciated
Come on in and try to save this girl

So why do you lie?
You have never been that good to me
You know you should go
But you never looked so good to me

In and out of windows
When the door is still wide open
Wont you come on in and try to change this girl?
I could leave the key
Under the door mat on the outside
If you come around and try to save this girl

So why do you lie?
You have never been that good to me
You know you should go
But you never looked so good to me

da da da da da da.....

You can always find me here...etc etc
So why do you lie...etc etc

Poor little me
