Doubt falls away
Deep breath miles past the enemy
That blood will stain
No use to try to remedy

That song he sang
"La, la, something 'bout a better day"
He'll miss her ways
Wonderin' if he missed his chance again

He says
"Speak to me from high, high places"
My prayer is short but complicated
I'm just waitin' for the weather to change

Some days are better than others today
I should have stayed under
Get out, get out, get out, I gotta think it over

And be done with today forever

I've got a game
You play Anna Lee and I'll play Emily
That might wear thin
Laughter comin' through the walls you're in
The walls you're in, the walls you're in

Oh, speak to me from high, high places
My prayer is short but complicated
I'm just waiting for the weather to change
Some days are better than others

Today, I should have stayed under
Get out, get out, get out, I gotta think it over
And be done with today forever
Today forever, today forever
