Lost in the pale blue sky
A crack in a perfect line
A cure for the common good
You did what you knew you should
I watched as you pulled away
Took in what you had to say
Tore up from the ceiling down
Before you could turn around
The once and the future queen
A series of settlings
The hope and the hopeless cause
The moment the morning dawns

A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry

A pin sticking in my ribs
Just isn't enough to live
The arc of the waning moon
There's nothing more we can do
Walk away dead and gone
No sense when the timing's wrong
From behind a wall of stone
She says what I've always known

A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry
A system of symmetry
