Now that we're one now
Softly whispers saving grace 6:19 as I awake
And stronger than last year
My eyes closed,
Stars can see me
Stars will meet me on the ground
On the ground

Summer is gone and winter is never too far now
When my poor arms (my arms are aching) outstretched so long that my bones are
Now
Breaking
But there, you come with a smile that sends any man to his knees
And I feel I've begun now that we're one now
You graciously add to
I graciously add you to my heart
To my heart

Summer is gone, and winter is never too far now
When my poor arms (my arms are aching) outstretched
so long that my bones are
Now
Breaking
But there, you come with a smile that sends any man to
his knees
And I feel I've begun now that we're one now
Now that we're one now
