You looking for answers?
Well, this path doesn't lead to answers
These prophets you're chasing after
Give false and broken promises
Like a knife twists, this cuts with a simple motion
There's always trouble on the outside

If you're prepared you'll survive on the outside

So many hands make for light work
So many eyes make for blind work
So many teeth make for fine work
Of these false and broken promises

You looking for answers?
You'll get what is good and paid for
Just say when you need a bit more
There's always favor brokering in a back room
Deals cut with a simple motive
There's always someone on the inside

So many hands make for light work
So many eyes make for blind work
So many lips make our lies work
So many teeth make for fine work
Of these false and broken promises
Of these false and broken promises
