Well, well
Well, well
Well, well

Come along, to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

I have enough verse, crystal clear
Here's my deluxe serplux just a clue
Of the thought that stuff I come up with
In my green walls monkey shine through

Check 1, 2, string into a summer song
I saw Autumn run into a hall
I might thought myself speeding the solar systems
Leading light years astray, maybe my fault

Not the season for a song, stash you way back in the attic
1, 2, 3 I've had it, the dream I mean
Two better decisions, better then supreme, I mean everything
And the kitchen sink, in the song can't go without love for long

Come along to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

Come along to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

I have enough verse, crystal cleary
The other deary, and in no where neary
As good as I can get and I will Bet that I will live up to my hope

I know one thing, if there's a thin line between love and hate
I walk the tight rope, come in closer
I can choke the life out of your life that's someone else

You come back and revisit yourself
If you believe that sort of thing is like falling in love
With the mirror, but what's more clear is life viewed
Through those in the fun house

Wave goodbye to water's without Scurrying up the steel nests without my Sitting on the fence is just a stand by
'Cause I don't want to waste my time till it runs out

Come along, to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

Come along, to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

Come along, to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
No competition, no more to wait
Silly straw mines are in line with age

Come along, to another dimension
Not at all an impossible mission
