12 shades of gray
Every life this day
A single fraction
Of amazing

Dreams I'd like to tell you
In songs of paradise
Well, the earth you knows right here
But the oil's running dry

So we'll laugh cry
At the same time
Come heal the wounds

When there's no more water left
And no more air in our breath
What will this earth be worth?

Do you want war or peace?
Blood for oil greed
Won't feed
Won't feed the hunger our need

So I light my candles pray
This world can still be saved
That it's not to late for peace be

So we'll laugh, cry
At the same time
Come heal the wounds

When there's no more water lecft
And no more air in our breath
What will this earth be worth?

Do you want war or peace?
Blood for oil greed
Won't feed
Won't feed the hunger our need

Come heal the wounds
In mom's sacred womb

These candles light the night like the sun of June
Come heal the wounds we'll all be here soon
Come heal the wounds

And no more air in our breath
What will this earth be worth?

Do you want war or peace?
Blood for oil greed
Won't feed
Won't feed the hunger our need
Won't feed, won't feed, won't feed
Won't feed the hunger our need
