So you finally figured that I could work you out
This time I remember we began to doubt
You said the wrong thing
I did the wrong thing

So, so, so much of the time I don't know where you are I'm starting to believe this won't go very far
This time
Mistake is mine

I can see them looking over now
I can hear them talking once too much

Is this all that we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others
wishes
Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we tried and we might survive for the others
wishes
It's my showdown

Maybe there's some other fella that you never know
Maybe he's some other one who'll never let you go
I said the wrong thing

I did the wrong thing

Like a fool I never listened, I just put you down Such a shame some other stranger's gonna get you now
This time
Mistake is mine

And I can see them looking over now
I can hear them talking once too much

'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others
wishes
Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we tried and we might survive for the others
wishes

It's my showdown

All the ages, changes all hazy

Is this all that we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others
wishes

Is this all we have to show for the seven years
'Cause we've tried and we might survive for the others
wishes

It's my showdown, this is my showdown
