Oh snap my plan's come undone
I'm free falling darlin' and the rising sun
Is brushin', on your cheek shining steady through the blinds
I thought I told myself that I would take my time
I'm sure I said I wasn't ready
She said she wasn't looking
It's not my fault that she's so good looking
But she is just my type
But I was ...
I plan to follow
But she says she's emotionally unavailable Whatever that means I'm down with that She kicked the cat out kid so I didn't talk back

Clouds are running through the sky
Shifting shapes and I know why
They say that that's what happens when you're busy
making plans
Wind blows the same I start to understand
You and I were meant for each other
And we'll always stick together when the world starts to crumble

Say Hey hey
Let me hear you say hey
You can fall on me (x2)

Two weeks past and I still didn't call
But your name was in my brain like graffiti on the train (undetermined) but I didn't have your number
I saw you on the bus but you were chillin' with some other guy
I was like damn, I was jealous
But you gave me a look
And you smiled just the same
And three hours later, my phone did ring
And it was you telling me would I like to chill
At this (undetermined) on the block that was real laid back
And I'm like, "yea it's on"
Clouds are running through the sky

Shifting shapes and I know why
They say that that's what happens when you're busy
making plans
Wind blows the same I start to understand
You and I were meant for each other
And we'll always stick together when the world starts to
crumble

Say Hey hey
Let me hear you say hey
You can fall on me (x2)

When no one knows what tomorrow will bring
But you can fall back on me when you can't win
This world is moving faster tougher every day
Aw baby just take a deep breath and let your troubles all fade away

I showed up late that really T'd her off
We couldn't agree on much but the vibes were strong Basically I fell in love with those big green eyes
You can say what you want cuz I was mesmerized
Now three years later and it feels so fresh
We stick together, sunshine, stormy weather

Clouds are running through the sky
Shifting shapes and I know why
They say that that's what happens when you're busy
making plans
Wind blows the same I start to understand
You and I were meant for each other
And we'll always stick together when the world starts to
crumble

Say Hey hey
Let me hear you say hey
You can fall on me
