The lyrics in the one by G love and Special Sauce look suspiciously, are are phrased WAY too much like Guitar Slim (Eddie Jones) in his 1964 recording of: 'The Things I Used To Do.'

Lyrics:

The things that I used to do
Lord I just won't do no more.
The things that I used to do
Lord I just won't do no more.
I use to sit up and hold your hand baby, and cry... oh baby please do not go.

I would search all night for ya darlin
lord knows my search would always be in vain
I would search all night for ya darlin
lord knows my search would always be in vain
But I knew all along, that you was hid out with your other man.

I will send you back to your mother babe
Lord know I'll go back to my family too.
I will send you back to your mother babe
Lord know I'll go back to my family too.
Ain't nuthin I do will please ya girl,
Lord knows I just can't get along with you.

Never do them no more baby

Things that I used to do

I ain't never gonna do them no more

Used to bother you around

Tears in my eye, low to the ground

Try and get slower, we been nowhere

You would leave me

Like twinkle soul
Is where to go
Baby you and me
Get with the roll
Here's a love song yeah
And I'm gonna sing it to you so slow
In your eardrum getting ready
All night long I rock steady Always glowing like rudolphs nose at Christmas time
Sure to glowin
Shining, undermining,
In your veins all in your mind
Upside you brain
Knock down deliver like hot tamales
I start to simmer
Things that I used to do
I ain't never gonna umm do them no
More
Things that I used to do...yeah
Never ever gonna do them no more
Used to bother you around
Tears in my eye, sinkin low to the ground
Lower than the ocean, swimmin in the Sea
Like I m a sword fish, check me

Baby shinin all night long

Just to get some

The things the house man used to do

Never ever gonna do them no more

Yeah the thing that the marshmellow

Man- jimmy -jazz prescot on the bass

Used to do

Never ever gonna do them no more

The things that I used to do

Never never never never gonna do them no
