I won't lay my dreams on your altar of sacrifice, sacrifice
Take it, the lies that you hold dear no longer affect me
As your life is bought and sold I'll sit back and laugh at your Burning, draining, dying world

Bleed it out, suck it in Bleed yourself on demand

Dried out, killed, overused, drained of all that you give Don't expect another contender to be the object of this abuse
I've given up on the dying, it never gave me your peace
Smile big, sit straight now, let go of all your dreams

Bleed yourself dry boy
You've made your decision; I've made mine
So you can save your breath selling me on your death

Die, choose your death
Die, choose your death
Die, you choose your own death

Die, you're already dead
Die, you're already dead
Die, you're already dead
Die, die
