Sorry, didn't think that you'd be bothered
It's only yesterday you forgot me
That you're trying to make all these problems
'Cause you think you can help me

Don't get me wrong
I'm just trying to tell you the truth

When I was feeling down and kind of lonely
Where were you to come and just hold me
You were hanging out with those phonies
Now you're trying to come back
Listen up, I'm just trying to tell you the truth

Try walking in my shoes
With my heart left out to slowly dry
While you make up your alibi

Round and round in my head
Round and round in my head
All the promises made
Round and round in my brain
Can't you see that I've changed
How could I be the same
Round and round in my head
How I wish you were dead

Now you're trying to get me on my number
But to me you're six feet under
You were stupid not to wonder
Why I left you standing
Boy, you, now it's your turn to cry

Yeah, oh

Try walking in my shoes

With my heart left out to slowly dry
While you make up your alibi

Round and round in my head

Round and round in my head
All the promises made
Round and round in my brain
Can't you see that I've changed
How could I be the same
Round and round in my head
How I wish you were dead

And to think that I'll change my mind
You got the wrong girl
I'm not the same girl that you knew
You got the wrong girl
You got the wrong girl
I'm not the same girl

Round and round in my head
Round and round in my head
How could I be the same

Round and round in my head
How I wish you were
How I wish you were
How I wish you were
