She turned the key opened the door
Was he there? She wasn't sure
She didn't want to fight no more
She had good intentions

In that moment face to face
She saw the look upon his face
She held him in a tight embrace
There was warm affection

Took a while before she spoke
(She spoke)
There were things she had to know
Composed herself and she said, "Baby

Tell me what you dream, what you see
And tell me how you feel, oh yeah
Tell me what you dream
Will you share it all with me what you dream?
Baby you can talk to me?

They agreed to meet half way
They would take it day by day
He didn't want to lose her twice
That would cut him like a knife

He decided then and there
To reveal his inner fears
He'd always loved her from the start
It was time to give his heart

Took a while before he spoke
(He spoke)
There were things he had to know
Composed himself and he said, "Baby

Tell me what you dream, what you see
And tell me how you feel, oh yeah
Tell me what you dream
Will you share it all with me what you dream?
You know you can talk to me?

Tell me what you dream, what you see
And tell me how you feel, oh yeah
Tell me what you dream
Will you share it all with me what you dream?
Baby you can talk to me

Tell me what you dream, what you see
(Tell me what you dream)
(Tell me what you see)
And tell me how you feel, oh yeah
(Tell me what you dream)
(Tell me what you see)

Tell me what you dream
(Tell me what you dream)
(Tell me what you see)
Will you share it all with me what you dream?
(Tell me what you dream)
(Tell me what you see)

Tell me what you see
Tell me what you dream
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you dream
Tell me what you see
Tell me what you dream
Tell me what you see
