-English Translation-

My eyes that floated in glass were simply Looking at you

The fragments of kindness are also missing
The repeating signals
Continue to speak of love only out of my lips
I take out the plugs running from my entire body
And with my own legs, just once more,
I looked at this sky

The world that expands inside of dreams is ///the last secret garden///
Inside of you I've already completely vanished, but only my name...
Will not forget

In a distorted loophole in time
The knife that stabbed me in the back gives me wings
And I keep looking at the sky
In order to burn up all of the memories
Running through my entire body
I only looked at you...

The world that expands inside of your arms is ///the last secret garden///
If inside of you I've already completely vanished, don't forget...
The things that you embraced

Softly close your eyes
It's okay if you're cut off from the light
If you want to see dreams

"But they've already noticed..."
Everything about you who raised your hand high

The world that expands inside of dreams is ///the last
secret garden///
Inside of you I've already completely vanished, but just don't forget...
My name

The world that expands inside of your arms is ///the last secret garden///
I only looked at you

Only you
