~English Translation~

From the day that you first wished you could reach the end

We started walking together on this neverending road

When it looked like you were going to stop
I grabbed your hand and refused to let go...

Don't cry
Smile your gentle smile

This is our neverending journey
I won't let anyone interfere
I won't let anyone sully it

Because the world that you're searching for is out there, waiting for you

The rain that falls from the parched sky tells us,
"There is great meaning to all of God's creatures."

When you want to break into tears out of loneliness
I'll squeeze you tight
I'll hold you close

No matter how much it hurts
Even if I lose everything

That's right, this is our neverending journey
I won't let anyone break it
No one else understands

Let's travel off to the world we're searching for

Don't worry because even if I disappear before you,
I'll become the keep on protecting you
