Let's go all the way

You all say sometime too much
It never means anything
It's almost like negating me

This is the world i'm waking up from
I thought that i was one of you
But i've got so much more to do

I'll only grow old by numbers
When the world is new again
I aspire to be a hooligan

This is the world i'm waking up to
Like a molten saturday
The world's gonna flatter me

Infinity is a man and his failures
Youth is your cellmate age is the jailer
But cracks remain when a human heart shatters

All the way down hollywood blvd
All the way down silver lake blvd
All the way down main street
All the way down bradway
All the way down broadway
All the way down the MLK
