Please don't question if i stop and stare cause i see you beauty floating everywhere and i'd like to blink my eyes but i don't dare cause i don't wanna miss the show see your form is floating next to me when i'm in a borderline reality so i try to burn this in my memory

so i never have to see you go cause all you beauty well it shines from within and you leave me with no words to begin when i see you in the moons glow and all you beauty well it shines from within

and you leave me with no words to begin if you never know well now you know you know

your silouhette is blessed with form and grace and you every more can never be replaced as you wrap around me in your misty ways and i never wanna see you go the way you play with me is mischievous as you float around my mind like angel dust and you'll never know the sweetness of our love cause you're never here long enough to know that all you beauty well it shines from within

and you leave me with no words to begin

you know

oh this crazy winter has followed me to this angry sea and i'm waiting for the balance to come and to carry me to sleep and if i choose this garden to be the place that i call my home then i'll always be challenged to know that i will always walk alone
