"Through"

When I saw what lay before me, Lord, I cried what will you do?
I thought He would just remove it. But He gently led me through Without fire there's no refining, without pain no relief, Without flood there's no rescue, without testing no belief.
Through the fire, through the flood, through the water,
through the blood
Through the dry and barren places, through life's dense and maddening mazes Through the pain and through the Glory through it all we'll tell the story of the God whose power and mercy will not fail to take us through
