It's all been said in fact it's all been done You set out with your new love on the run But what you did to me he'll do to you Let's see how far you get when you walk in my shoes

You've done me wrong and you know that ain't right But when the karma hits you'll see the light We all pay the price for what we do Let's see how far you get when you walk in my shoes

Let's see how far you get when your tears and regrets Swell up like the blood in your heart When what goes around comes back around It's gonna tear your world a part

Well I bet that you don't hear a word I say You never did much listenin' anyway You got a one way ticket to the blues Let's see how far you get when you walk in my shoes

Well I bet that you don't hear a word I say You never did much listenin' anyway You got a one way ticket to the blues Let's see how far you get when you walk in my shoes You're hell bound and headed for the blues Let's see how far you get when you walk in my shoes
