I went out last night and stayed out way too long
When I looked around and all my friends had gone
You know, I stayed so long, I could not go home

Oh when I need a little something who, what, I did not know
Oh, I stuck around to see if it would show
Well, I stayed so long that I forgot to go

Now, it's way too late, way too late
Way too late, way too late
Way too late to go home early now

Honey, turn your back, turn your back on me

'Cause I can't bear, bear for you to be Bear looking at a man not where he's supposed to be

Now, it's way too late, way too late
Way too late, way too late
Way too late to go home early now

Honey, turn your back, turn your back on me
Oh 'cause I can't bear, bear for you to be
Bear looking at a man not where he's supposed to be

Now, it's way too late, way too late
Way too late, way too late
Way too late to go home early now
