"Amnesty"

Stop wasting time that you don't have Pull the veil off of your eyes
Take a look outside yourself and who you are Gaze on and question the stars

If you're not living by what you believe
What do you firmly place your feet upon?
There's one remaining hope
Don't let this come to blows
"Let's live for today, who knows what tomorrow may bring",
What a hopeless thought, it gives me no reason to sing

The blind can't lead the blind, let's open up our minds
Put your lamp on a stand There's no need to be afraid of what tomorrow may bring

There's one remaining hope, don't let this come to blows

Tomorrow's but a speck in time
Get up and run to the truth, the light
Look to the sky, imagine the life
Living for a purpose, living with a sight
