"FISH"

Visit "FISH" on MotoLyrics.com

Every morning sun rays beam through the clouds and the sea

Winding down the current slowly reveals apathy

Nothingness is treading virtually blind in the rain

When a frantic purring motor unwinds on a freeway

I will breed you I will feed you tell me what will you do

I caress you I will bless you I will if you want to Someone saw the fisherman and the fire in the sky

Burying those hurtful images deep in the sand

Still looking for the one who will really understand

But the night is covering mountains in valleys of green

I will fool you I will drool you I will blame you I will tame
you

I can feel you I can heal you I can breath you I can reach you

I will freak you I will weak you I will move you I will save
you

I will chain you I will brain you but I miss you wanna kiss
you
