"Mummy Invasion"

Wake one day, get out of bed
Drop your Choc Dip as you look outside
There's a glowing pyramid on the edge of town
It's presence there comes as a surprise

Bony hands that claw and scab, dessicated devils from the past
Anachronistic corpses escaped from the lab, stiff limbed invasion that came on too fast
News reports are confused, talk of bandaged maniacs causing much ado
Slow moving menace that overwhelms the town, it's hopeless to fight now their claws are on you

Fear of fire ? there's nothing you can do Evils conspire ? the jackal-headed god beckons you

Borne to the pyramids, no use to shout,
They can only speak in hieroglyphs
See the doors marked 'locals in', 'mummies out', Oh dear god don't let it end like this Production line of evil that pickles your skin Conveyor belt of terror stuffs amulets in Dehumanizing mummifying like a day spa gone wrong
Then they send you out a mummy to do evil carry-on
