New asking eyes each day
Some always trying to make me stay
And steal my love away

They won't do any harm
Something calls me back to your arms
And sounds all the alarms

Staying in line is easy, which is to say, it's fine
The things I do for you girl I never mind

I used to get my way
In everything I'd do or say
And sit around all day

Now I work nine till five
For some big day that won't arrive
But I don't feel deprived

Working a job is easy, which is to say, it's fine
The things I do for you girl I never mind

Staying with you is easy, which is to say, it's fine
The things I do for you girl I never mind
