Flying in over Asia low
Not the one that we think we know

Will it be a better life? (I never know)
Will they understand a word? (I don't think so, well all the better)
But the catch phrases (We can leave behind)
There when we go (Everything we know)

Will be the likes of
"Elegance of line" (And we'll all get in line)
And "sense of place" (It's called "this old continent")
"Elegance of line" (And we'll all get in line)
And "sense of place" (It's called "this old continent")

And room for one more

All we see out across the land
All exists out of our demand

Will it be our new America? (And we'll all get in line)
And can we invent it's history? (We can say we tried, well I've been)
Well that's what (wondering if anyone)
The brochures would imply (back home is on our side)

And we'll have
"Elegance of line" (And we'll all get in line)
And "sense of place" (It's called "this old continent")
"Elegance of line" (And we'll all get in line)
And "sense of place" (It's called "this old continent")

Elegance of line
And room for one more
Always one more
