As these pages turn
I'm left in the dust
With each breath filling my lungs
With these lies, with this hate
I wont be alone
Watch me melt into this ink

You hear this noise, it's far too late
You hear this noise, it's calling fate
I've been shutdown before, but I swear these words
One day I'll get my revenge

This is just another re-run
To a story called life
Read me the steps
Will you read me steps

I wanted you to know
This story's getting old
I've waited so long
For this moment to come
So as my eyes are closed
And my hands are shaking cold
This is the heart I hold

As these pages turn
I'm left in the dust
With each breath filling my lungs
With these lies, with this hate
I wont be alone

This is the heart I hold
